

Here's a hint: (I hide in plain sight, but I'm not what I seem, To solve me, shift letters like a cryptic dream. Add alternatively four steps forward, or four them back, Decipher my secret to get on track.)

I stand across the river wide,
From one side to the other I provide.
People walk, cars roll, trains may glide,
Without me, there's no easy stride.
My name is short, just six in length,
Solve me now — I'm strong in strength.
